

Job Nears End

After a considerable wait for good weather, the Millwood water storage tank's colorful paint job is nearing completion. The tank, a long-term community project, was begun last year. The paint design was by West Valley High School students in the school colors. The triangles are orange and white with black outlining, and an orange top.